HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Class of 1908 Held Graduating Exercises Last Thursday

ADDRESS IN EVENING

Dr. Judson P. Welsh, of State College Delivers Annual Commencement Address.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN—PRIZES AWARDED

The graduating exercises of the class of 1908 of the Bellefonte High school were held in the Petrikin Hall Thursday afternoon at 2 30 o'clock. With these exercises sixteen of our young people complete their common school studies and have prepared themselves for the better solving of life's problems. In the number of graduates the class is about the average and in grading they rank with and excel many of those who graduated in past years. The first honor and general excellence prize has been awarded to Mr. Ivan V. Walker, son of Ex-Sheriff W. Miles Walker, and the second honor and mathmatical prize goes to Miss Rachel E. Shuey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shuey. The program as given Thursday afternoon consisted of the class orations and essays, class prophecy and history and salutatory and valedictory and was as follows:

Salutory and Essay—"The American Business Girl" ..... Rachael E. Shuey
Oration—"The Problem of the Nile" ..... J. Walter Rishel
Essay ..... Katherine F. Willard
Oration—"Our Unrewarded Heroes" ..... Wilbur H. Kreamer
Music.
Class History ..... Grace H. Crawford
Oration—"Our National Emblem" ..... Harold B. Gardner
Oration—"The Modernization of Warfare" ..... Ogden B. Malin
Music.
Class Prophecy ..... Arthur Ward
Biographical Essay ..... Bessie A. Miles
Oration and Validictory—"Are We Unmindful of the Evils of Europe?" ..... Ivan V. Walker
Essay—"Among the Southern Mountains" ..... Abbie M. Cook
Oration—"Slavery in the South" ..... Frank B. Crissman
Oration—"The Romance of Tunnel Building ..... G. Nevin Hoy
Essay—"The Developement of the English Language ..... Mary E. McMurtrie
Oration—"The Preservation of Niagara Falls ..... Edward M. Shields
Oration—"How Electricity has Become King" ..... William L. Straub

The graduates presented their parts in manner creditable to themselves and with a mark of excellence that bore testimony of the efficiency of their instructors.

GRADUATING ADDRESS

The commencement address to the class of 1908 of the Bellefonte high school was delivered at the Petriken Hall on Thursday evening by Dr. Judson P. Welsh, vice president of the Pennsylvania State College. Dr. Welsh spoke very complimentary of the turn out on such a warm evening on the part of the people of Bellefonte to hear the commencement address and said it was an indication that the people of Bellefonte were intereested in the education of their children. After a few preliminary remarks the speaker took up the theme of good citizenship, and stated that good citizens depended upon two things—intelligence and integrity. He spoke at some length of the purposes of the common school system and the interest taken by the educators in bringing about these essentials. Before closing his address Dr. Welsh very forcibly impressed upon the graduates and the audience the importance of character and culture. He congratulated the members of the class on their having reached this period in life and advised them to continue in the paths of learning. This was Dr. Welsh's first appearance in Bellefonte to make an address and he was well received on this occasion.

Following the address H. C. Quigley, a member of the school board, presented the diplomas to the graduates and announced the prizes, as follows:

The W. F. Reynolds general excellence prize, $10—Ivan V. Walker.

The J. C. Meyer biographical prize, $10—Bessie A. Miles.

The Harry Keller mathematical prize, $10 Rachael E. Shuey.

The W. F. Reynolds junior declamatory contest, first prize, $10—Mary K. Ray; second prize, $5—Benedict Beezer,

The D. A. R. revolutionary essay prizes—$5 each to Crilly Robb and Harris Olewine.

The George R. Meek literary contest, first prize, $7.50—Francis Thomas; second prize, $2.50—Raymond Jenkins.

The George R. Meek book keeping prize, $5—Lucille Wetzel.

The George R. Meek spelling prize, $5—Anna Shuey.

This event marks the closing of one of the most successful terms in the history of the Bellefonte schools and much credit is due the directors in having so wisely chosen the instructors. Too much credit can not be given Prof. John D. Meyer who has superintended the Bellefonte schools in such an efficient way as to obtain the best results possible. Prof. Meyer has spared neither time nor efforts in his endeaver to bring the schools up to the high standard now maintained, to which the excellent work of our schools attest. It is more than likely that Prof. Meyer will be retained as supervising principal of the schools and the citizens feel assured that they will prosper under so capable and efficient management. Prof. Meyer has received the hearty co-operation of all the teachers in the schools and together they have made our schools what they should be.

Payment of School Funds.

Harrisburg, June 1st—This week the State will begin payment of the largest annual school appropriation made by any Commonwealth in the United States, and within the next six months no less than 7,500,000 will be paid out of the State Treasury for education.

This is over $2,000,000 in excess of what is paid by New York, and far ahead of Massachusetts. Texas and other States where large educational appropriations are made. It is one-half of the $150,000,000 school appropriation made by the last Legislature and urged by Governor Stuart in his inaugural address, being carried to fruition by the the efforts of State Treasurer John O. Sheatz, then chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. Sheatz will make the payments as fast as the warrants are sent to him by Superintendent of Public Instruction N. C. Schaeffer. Dr. Schaeffer makes up the warrants from reports made by local districts. These districts receive the money for reimbursement of what they paid during the year ending June 1st and must certify that they paid the minimum salaries of $40 and $50.

Miss Lizzie DeLaney.

Miss Lizzie Delaney a daughter of Mrs. Winiferd Delaney of Lock Haven died at her home on Jones street in that city last Thursday evening about 5 o'clock. Miss Delaney had suffered an attack of typhoid pneumonia some time ago and never recovered from the illness. During the past few weeks she gradually grew worse, death finally taking her away at the time stated.

Deceased was born at Howard, where the family lived for many years and where the young lady had many friends She was also known to many of the younger people in Bellefonte.

Surviving her are her widowed mother, one sister, Mary, and two brothers, John and James. Funeral services were conducted at the church of the Immaculate Conception in Lock Haven on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Requeim mass was celebrated by Rev. J. N. Cordori and interment was made in the St. Mary's cemetery.

Old Man Pawned Furniture.

For many years Harry Hoffman of Butler, has been "wild-cating" in the Butler oil field but with no success. Recently he secured a lease on a lot for a mere song and at once began to raise the funds to drill for oil. Piece by piece he pawned his furniture until nothing was left but a rickety old bed, and his wife said she was willing to sacrifice that too. Just as the old man was about to pawn that article the drillers struck a gusher. The oil is spouting half way up the derrick, and it is believed that when it is confined it will be good for about 500 barrels a day, or about $590.

Academy Reception.

The annual reception of the Academy will be held on Friday evening, June 5, from eight to ten o'clock.

Smiths orchestra will furnish the music. A cordial invitation is extended to the directors and teachers of the Bellefonte public schools and their families, the members of the graduating class of the High School, all past and present patrons and students of the Academy and all friends of this institution. No card invitations are issued for this occasion.

FOREIGNERS ROB WOMAN

Dying Robber Claims That Black Hand Made Plans

ONE IS FATALLY SHOT

Robbers Secure $450 After Shooting Woman Who Answered Knock on Door.

TWO OF THE ROBBERS ARE AT LARGE

Punxsutawney, Pa., June 1.—Although one of their number was fatally shot three foreigners last night secured $450 from Mrs. James Rico after she had been wounded by a bullet. The woman is the wife of a boarding house boss at Chambersville, eight miles south of here. The dead man, whose ante-mortem statement implicated a Pittsburgh Black Hand agency, is in a morgue here, while the two other robbers are at large.

Frank Maraco, Michael Rossi and an unknown foreigner, said to be from Pittsburgh, last night went to the Rico house where Rossi was a boarder. Rico was asleep, but his wife went to the door, where the men seized her and demanded money. Before the money was taken one of the men shot Mrs. Rico through the shoulder. Rico, hearing the shot, burst through the door one of the men had locked, and fired twice, both bullets hitting Maraco. At the hospital here Maraco said the unknown foreigner was a Black Hand agent from Pittsburgh, and arriving here yesterday had hired the two other men to assist in the robbery.

State College Creamery Report.

For the nine months ending with the April tests Mr. D. H. Bottorf's herd of cows averaged 163 pounds of butter fat per cow. The best cow made 204 pounds of fat in this time while the poorest cow averaged 150 pounds.

John Bathgate's herd came second with an average of 148 pounds per cow and the best cow made 187 pounds of fat, the poorest cow making only 80 pounds.

The poorest heard averaged only 88 pounds during the nine months while the best cow in this herd produced 125 pounds which is less than the poorest cow in Bottorf's herd.

Of those who have been testing eight months Mr. Wm. Lytle's herd stands first with an average of 158 pounds of butter fat per cow for the eight months, while the best cow in the herd made 224 pounds. This cow made more in eight months than the best cow in Mr. Battorf's herd did in nine months.

Mr. John Bathgate delivered the largest number of pounds of fat to the creamery during the month of April.

Arrangement are completed with the Peensylvania Railroad and the Bellefonte Central whereby farmers living along those roads can buy tickets and ship their cream direct to the State College Creamery.

32 cents was the price paid for April butter fat.

Injured Jumping off a Freight.

Asbury Pletcher of Howard was badly injured at Vail station Thursday evening in jumping off a freight train. Shortly after supper he boarded the freight at Howard to take a ride as sometimes the custom of young men. When the train reached Vail he attempted to jump off and in the dark landed in a cattle guard. The result was his left leg was broken and he received other injuries of a less serious nature. An engine was run down from Tyrone and the injured young man taken to the Tyrone station where he was placed on the 11 o'clock train and taken to the Altoona hospital and his injuries dressed. This experience will likely be a lesson for the young man and cure him of the freight riding habit.

Keep Dogs off the Street.

No unmuzzled dogs should be allowed to run upon our streets. It is safer to allow our cows to stroll the streets than dogs where there are so many children. Public opinion should see that the proper officers enforce the dog law before any person is bitten. All dogs should be kept chained at home or muzzled during this hot weather.

JUNE COUNCIL MEETING.

Village Improvement Committee Recommends Removal of Unsightly Building.

The regular semi-monthly session of the borough council was held on Monday evening at 7.30 with President Judge in the chair and the following members present: Kirk, Musser, Keller, Hamilton, Harper, Shuey, Wagner.

The Water committee reported the cleaning of the big Spring.

The Street committee had nothing of importance to report.

The Finance committee reported a balance in the hands of the Treasurer of $327.86.

The walk on Potter street has been complained of. The properties along this part of the street complained of belong to T. A. Shoemaker and he will be urged to repair same.

The Treasurer reported that a note for $3000 fell due May 25th and Mr. Keller moved that a new note for $4000 be given dated June 1st to pay the old note and current bills.

Mr. Musser of the Village Improvement Committee recommended that the old stone building on the McClure lot on South Spring street be removed together with the bill board there at the expense of the property owners. It is a nuisance and a menace to the passersby. There is danger from falling walls. It was decided to notify the properry owner of the recommendation of the Village Improvement Committee and to defer further action until next meeting night.

The recommendation of the Water committee fixing the water rates for the ensuing year was accepted.

Mr. Musser moved that the council appropriate four or five dollars to fix up the flower beds at the Water Works. Motion failed to carry. The Water appeal will be held in the council chamber June 18th at 7 p. m.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Police pay roll	$ 52 50
Bellefonte Electric Co.	15 75
" " "	362 25
" " "	4 35
W. L. Daggett	2 50
J. I. Olewine	7 48

Street pay roll	75 32
Joseph Shaughnessy	10 00
Bellefonte Gas Co.	48 10
Water Works Pay Roll	85 50
W. F. Reynolds	100 00

Jennie Armstrong

Jennie Armstrong a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong, died at the home of her parents on east Howard street Sunday morning about seven o'clock. The young lady had been an invalid for many years and about five weeks ago she contracted pneumonia which caused her death. Deceased was born in Bellefonte on July 9th 1884 and was therefore 23 years. 10 months and 22 days of age. She was a member of the Bellefonte Episcopal church, but her physical condition would not permit her attendance to church duties in recent years.

Besides her parents, Robert and Sara Armstrong she is survived by two brothers John and Walter. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock at their home on east Howard street. Her pastor Rev. John Hewitt had charge of the services. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

Found Strangled Infant.

Friday morning as a Pennsylvania rackwalker was patrolling his route between Nesbit and Nippeno park, he was startled to see the body of an infant lying along the side of the tracks. Picking it up the man found the body to be that of a child about two or three weeks old.

The authorities at Williamsport were promptly notified and the wheels of the law were soon in motion. It was at first thought that the body was that of a colored child, but further investigation disclosed the fact that it was a white child, with the further horrifying discovery that the discoloration of the face was caused by strangulation. A stout cord was found about the innocent victim's neck.

The only theory yet advanced by the authorities is that the murdered baby's body was thrown from one of the Pennsylvania fast night trains passing this point. The affair has caused much excitement in the vicinity of, as well as at Williamsport. Every possible effort will be made to apprehend the inhuman perpetrator or perpetrators of the horrible crime.—Lock Haven Express.

LOVERS DIE EMBRACED

Wilkesbarre Couple Form Suicide Pact and End Lives Together

LEFT PATHETIC NOTE.

Unable to Wait Two Years for a Divorce They Decide to End Their Lives Clasped in Each Other's Arms

"THERE WAS NOTHING ELSE TO DO."

Wilkes-Barre June 2nd.—On the eve of a separation, unable to marry for at least two years, and deeply in love with each other, Annie Kares, of Kingston, and Sebastian Gyula, of this city, this morning died together and left a pathetic note, saying there was nothing else to do.

They had arranged for their death deliberately. Gyula had purchased a revolver, and this morning while Mrs. Anna Benedict, the girl's mother, was away from home, they attired themselves in their best clothes as for a wedding, pinned bridal roses on their breasts, and after writing a letter and two notes of farewell and final directions, calmly met death together and with smiles upon their lips.

The young girl lay down upon a bed on which she had put the best bed clothes her mother had, and then Gyula evidently shot her in the left temple and a moment later shot himself. Their last act was to throw their arms around each other and in that position and with smiles upon their still lips and their glassy eyes fixed upon each other, the mother found them some hours later.

The girl was married a year ago to Michael Kares, who deserted her after some months. Three months ago she met young Gyula and they fell in love at first sight. Gyula had been appointed by a friend of the family to look after the collection of a small fortune recently left to Mrs. Benedict by a relative in Europe, and this brought about his meeting with the young wife.

A week ago they resolved that she should get a divorce and be married, despite the fact that they would have to leave their church to do so. This fact depressed them greatly and they were still further overcome when they learned that it would take at least two years to secure a divorce.

Then to add to the sum of their unhappiness Mrs. Benedict decided to go to Europe and take her daughter with her. Then it was that the death pact was apparently made.

Pennsy's Dividend.

The regular semi-annual dividend of the Pennsylvania Railroad company was mailed Thursday to 59,415 shareholders, the greatest number in the company's history, and representing an increase of 14,000 over the number receiving the dividend a year ago.

The nearly 60,000 separate checks sent out amounted in value to $9,437,839.50, being a dividend of 3 per cent on the capitalization of $314,594,650, divided into 6,291,893 shares of $50 per value. The average holdings amounted to only 105 shares, a decrease for the year of 32..

Of exceptional interest is the increase in the number of women shareholders from 21,028 a year and to 27,767 who received dividends this year. Women thus received more than 46 per cent of the total number of dividend checks.

Alice D. Munson

Miss Alice D. Munson, a sister of L. T. Munson of this place, died at her home in Philipsburg about 5 a. m. Thursday, her death being caused by typhoid pneumonia. She was a daughter of the late Levi and Margaret Munson and has spent her life in Philipsburg. Being the oldest child of the family she was very much devoted to the other members of the family. Besides her brother L. T. Munson she also has a sister Mrs. William McClellan, residing here. Other members of the family who survive are Charles of Kane, Mrs. Julia Bolinger of DuBois, Margaret, wife of Spencer Rhoads of Lelin, Harry and Reuben at home.

Funeral services were held from the Munson home Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. D. F. Harris, her pastor officiating.

SOLDIERS MARCH AGAIN.

Grand Army of the Republic Pays Eloquent Tribute to its Honored Dead.

The annual recurrence of Memorial day recalls to our minds the debt of gratitude we owe to the Grand Army of the Republic and each year we are more and more beginning to realize what the soldier brave have done for their country. Once again the nation has paused in its busy whirl to pay tribute to her heroes who fought and died in battle and who so nobly defended her flag in the time of civil conflict. Once again has the Grand Army and its friends assembled to commemorate their deeds and keep alive in the breasts of their children the memory of those who bore the brunt of the battle.

With threatening clouds overhanging the sky the members of Gregg Post of Bellefonte and other patriotic and civil organizations gathered to do honor to the soldier dead. Just as the parade was formed on the public square the clouds opened and the rain began to fall. The parade was disbanded at this time and the services were called in the court house. H. B. Pontius, commander of the Post, presided over the services in that building. The orator of the day was Rev. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Rev. Platts himself is a very patriotic man and his address recalled the deeds of the heroic Grand Army and their devotion to their country's flag and was filled with patriotic inspiration. Rev. John Hewitt, pastor of the Episcopal church, and a Confederate veteran, also addressed the assemblage.

After the services in the court house were completed the skys had cleared somewhat and the parade was again called and proceeded to the Union cemetery to complete the services of the day. The ceremonies at the cemetery were conducted at the plot set apart by the Post. The address to the comrades was made by the commander, followed by prayer by the chaplain. The customary decoration services were performed and special services for all the honored dead of both the army and navy.

While there is a great similarity in the services from year to year yet they never lose interest and apparently are growing more solemn on each occasion of the annual memorial day. The day is becoming more sacred to the veterans and is becoming one of the nations most hallowed days.

Rev. A. M. Schmidt made an address at the grave of the late D. H. Hastings and Col. J. L. Spangler spoke at the grave of the great war governor, Gen. Curtin.

A beautiful floral emblem was received from the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, Philadelphia, for the decoration of the grave of Governor Curtin.

While the day was observed in general as a holiday, many people did not leave their homes on account of the threatening weather.

Pig Iron Trade Active.

More than 200,000 tons of pig iron have been included in the new orders placed with independent blast furnaces during the past week. The orders have filled up many of the large independent interests for some months and have caused a stiffening of prices, at the same time changing the complexion of the iron and steel trade. Not since the decline has so much activity been shown and the work of repairing blast furnaces in the vicinity of Pittsburg is being rushed. The Pittsburg Dispatch states that ten stacks will be blown as soon as they can be repaired. In some cases repairs which were put off at the time of closing down have been suddenly ordered with all haste. The demand for pig iron comes from the market for basic and steel making irons, and is growing.

Col. Damon Coming Again.

Col. A. M. Damon, of the Salvation Army, who is well known in Bellefonte as an earnest and eloquent speaker, will again visit this place on Saturday and Sunday and will speak in the following places: His first appearance will be in the Court house at 8 p. m. Saturday, with Dr. Platts as chairman.

Sunday at 10.30 a. m. he will preach in the Presbyterian church. At 3.30 p. m. he will speak in the court house under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. And at 7.30 in the evening he will give his lecture in the Methodist church. All are cordially invited to these services.

No doubt this is the last visit the Colonel will make to our town as he is under farewell orders, and in a few weeks will leave for another part of the battle field.

—Effective Monday, June 8th, the Bellefonte Central railroad will resume its former passenger tariff, 3 cents per mile.

FAVOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANK

Prohibitions in Convention Denounce the Liquor Traffic

LICENSE IS A CRIME

Platform Favors the Election of President and Vice President by Direct Vote of the people

LOCAL OPITION PLANK UNMENTIONED

Sayre, May 28th.—The platform adopted by the Pennsylvania State Prohibition convention, in session here today, reaffirms allegiance to the National Prohibition party.

It affirms that the liquor traffic is not a business; but the license symstem is a crime and a financial failure, in that it places a burden of taxation on the Commonwealth which exceeds its revenues, and declares for the enactment of State and national laws prohibiting the manufacture, transportation, importation and exporation of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

The platform also favors the election of the President and Vice-President of the United States by a direct vote of the people.

No special local option plank is incorporatied in the platform, but favors all movements that have for their object the overthrow of the liquor traffic. It demands further the immediate prohibition of the liquor traffic in the District of Columbia and at all other places under Federal jurisdiction.

The establishment of postal savings banks is favored, as is also the enforcement of the law requiring instruction in the public schools of physiology and hygeine with reference to the effect of alcoholic liquors and narcotics upon the human system.

It protests against the defects in the primary election law and concludes with an arraignment of the present system of distributing State appropriations to public institutions and State charities as a reward of party favor under the disguise of public charity.

Daniel Sturgeon of Uniontown was nominated for Judge of the Superior Court. David B. McCalmont of Franklin, was re-elected state chairman.

Memorial

Gilding the sky with its glory,
The sun rises brightly today;
Filling the earth with its gladness,
Kissing the dewdrops away.

Flora triumphant awakens
And modestly blushing, behold!
The smiling advent of morning,
In shimmering glances of gold.

Telling again the old story,
Recalling Memorial day;
Garlanding graves of our loved ones,
With beautiful flowers of May.

Bright immortelles for the soldier
Tearfully placed on his mound,
His country's grateful remembrance
Wherever his grave shall be found.

Arms reversed, with droop'd colors,
Muffled the low beating drum,
Funeral march of the veterans,
As shoulded to shoulder they come.

Hair streaming white as the snowflakes,
Now steady, but martial the tread,
Last of that gallant Grand Army
The vanguard where victory led.

Does thought recall their strong manhood
When proudly they shouldered their gun,
To open a world to Freedom,
The grandest in under the sun.

Thanks to the veterans living,
And cheers for the cause where they led;
Flowers and tears for the comrades
That lie in the ranks of the dead.

Lessening Forest Fires.

The address of Governor Stuart before a Bethlehem audience the other evening on the question of Pennsylvania forest conservation was of particular interest to Central and northern Pennsylvania where the matter of forest rehabilitation is claiming so much attention. Is is of peculiar value to the people and property owners all over the West Branch water shed to know that the loss by forest fires has been reduced from $834,000 in 1900 to $70,000 in 1906, with even a smaller percentage of loss during 1907, due to the fact that the natural growth of wood, when unhindered and unharmed by ravaging fires, soon becomes so prolific as to be of itself a barrier against the spread of fire. That the spring of 1908, with its long season of steady moisture and consequent remarkable advance of tree and shrubbery growth will add very materially to the rehailiation of the hills is already apparent.

A MODERN SOUP STONE.

And a Word About the Treatment of the Ills of Old Age.

The Medical Times of New York holds out to mankind a new beacon of hope in the form of an article by Dr. Samuel G. Tracy promising a cure through electricity for the ills of old age. It is the arteries, Dr. Tracy points out, that first show the symptoms of senility. When their walls lose elasticity a man is growing old. The cause of the hardening of the arteries is an impure condition of the blood, and it is here that Dr. Tracy suggests that the electric battery shall get in its beneficent work. A treatment which Dr. Tracy proposes through use of a hyfrex coil—whatever that may be—"bombards the patient with millions of oscillations per second." There is an elaborate statement of how the thing is to be done, winding up with this significant remark: "This treatment must be seconded by strict attention to diet and hygiene."

This last suggestion throws a world of light upon the whole matter and at the same time reminds us of a story which was current in well ordered nurseries about forty-five years ago. It was a story of a vagabond who begged the privilege of making soup over the kitchen fire of a cottage from a smooth stone which he carried in his pocket. First he begged of the kind cottage wife the use of her fire; then he borrowed a kettle; then he asked for some water, for any old bone that happened to be lying about, for some vegetables, for a pinch of salt and for what not essential to the making of a rich soup. When the decoction was done and eaten the soup stone was carefully dried and returned to the pocket of this artist in beggary to serve some future occasions. Dr. Tracy's electric scheme is, we suspect, much like this soup stone, since, given "strict attention to diet and hygiene," the rest is always easy. In truth, if there be anything the matter with a man which "strict attention to diet and hygiene" will not cure his family may just as well brush up their black clothes.—Argonaut.

What We Owe to Our Coal.

"When England loses her ascendency in coal production," said William Stanley Jevons, a British political economist, in 1867, "her fall will be quicker than the Roman empire's was after Odoacer, the Germanic barbarian, upset the shadow throne of the little Augustus and made himself king of Italy." The United States, which was low in the scale of coal production when that prophecy was made, has since then passed far ahead of England. Of the more than 400,000,000 tons of coal of all sorts produced in the United States in the calendar year 1907 much more than three-fifths was anthracite, and nearly all of this was furnished by Pennsylvania.

In 1880 the United States passed ahead of the United Kingdom in volume of manufactures in the aggregate, and the lead has been increasing ever since. In 1907 the United States in pig iron production, 26,000,000 tons, beat the United Kingdom, Germany and France combined. In 1908 our $120,000,000,000 of wealth exceeds that of the United Kingdom and France taken together, which are our nearest rivals on that roll. Much of the United States' industrial and financial preponderance over the countries of the world is due to the utilization of anthracite, which started on Feb. 11, 1808.—Leslie's Weekly.

A Sit-by-the-Fire.

"You may talk about your country cousins who never get outside of their native counties," said the man who lives not far from St. Thomas' church, "but I know a man who has lived in New York for forty years and has never seen the Flatiron building. Of course he couldn't have seen it during three-fourths of that time, however much he may have wanted to, but that isn't what I'm talking about. He is a bookseller, with a shop not three minutes from Broadway and not more than twenty minutes' walk from Twenty-third street. No, he isn't blind. He simply hasn't seen the Flatiron building because his business hasn't taken him down that way, and he is not sufficiently curious to go down there merely to look at it. He has not been as far south as Forty-second street in five years, and he is not a dozen blocks away. He has his work to attend to during the day, and when night comes he goes home, which reminds me that there are thousands of people in Manhattan who have never seen the Brooklyn bridge and more have never crossed it, and still some people wonder at the lack of civic pride among residents of New York city."—New York Press.

King Snob.

Richard Nordhausen in "Kunstwart" enlarges on the power of a new monarch whom he calls "King Snob." "Snob," he says, using the English word despite the German emperor's request to omit the use of foreign words, "makes our fashions not only in our theaters and our bookstores, but even decrees at the art exhibitions which pictures shall be a la vogue, for, unseen, he occupies a place on the jury. Snob indicates also which of the composers are 'great.' Snob creates all the art fashions which have their origin in the large cities. We should not be deceived. Of the imposing artistic community which makes the laws for the great cities of Germany seven-eighths regard art with the eyes of the 'know nothing.' They crowd to the front the men with big heads and legs like matches and hinder the progress of those whose talent is not supported by clan and bell. This power destroys culture." The writer makes a powerful plea against the rule of "King Snob" and "snobismus."

NAVAL TEST GREAT VICTORY

Monitor Florida Was Subject of Terrible Gunnery

VESSELS WERE CLOSE

The Monitor Florida Will Now be Fitted Up to Test Efficacy of New Bulkhead.

BATTLE MAST A GREAT SUCCESS

Old Point Comfort, Va., May 27.—The biggest naval gun, the heaviest projectile and the highest explosive known, combined with close range and deadly aim, were today allowed to work their full havoc on the turret plate of the monitor Florida. The result is declared to be a victory for turret construction and this, notwithstanding the 11-inch hardened steel plate was blackened, broken, the seams of the turret sprung and the rivets and screws twisted and loosened.

It was not five minutes after the terrible impact that the finely balanced mechanism of the turret was being worked with perfect ease and the 12-inch gun on the left side was trained at will.

Inside the turret, where stand the gunners and gun crew, the havoc was much less apparent than from the outside. Examination showed that of the many delicately adjusted instruments for fire control, sighting and operating the turret, few if any were out of working order.

"If this had happened in battle the Florida would be fighting yet," said one of the rear admirals with enthusiasm.

Then followed a futile attempt to destroy the newly designed fighting mast erected on the stern of the Florida. After five shots from the Arkansas guns had gone ripping through it the mast still stood firm.

"Forty shots would not bring it down and no enemy would waste ammunition and time shooting at it," was the expert comment. It was predicted that all new ships will be equipped with battle masts of this design.

After the day's experiments had been finished the Arkansas was ordered back to the Norfolk yard and the Florida was also taken there to be fitted with a specially built bulkhead into which a Whitehead torpedo is to be fired within ten days to demonstrate whether bulkheads of the new type may not profitably be used to protect the hull of the ship.

Record of the Pupils.

At the close of the public schools in Bellefonte Wednesday Prof. Meyer announced the gradings and records made by the scholars. The following list gives the names of those who did not miss a day nor receive a tardy mark during the term. Certificates to that effect were given them.

Musser Gettig, Clarence Pardoe, Gilbert Waite, Charles McClellan.

Betty Lackington, Ruth Badger, James Sunday, Rachael Lambert, Malcolm Rhinesmith.

Russell Lowery, Joseph Hull.

Nellie McClellan, Ruth Johnson, Samuel Rhinesmith, Nellie Weixler.

Keep the Balance up

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness, or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it, and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hoods's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healty, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. It's early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength, and endurance.

TEN BILLION NEWSPAPERS.

That Was the Estimated Circulation For the Year 1907.

Facts relating to newspapers and newspaper growth are presented in Appleton's Magazine in an article on "The Newspaper as It Is," written by General Charles H. Taylor of the Boston Globe.

"Statistics of American newspapers, giving the number in each state," says General Taylor, "were first compiled in 1810, when there was a total of 366 papers of all kinds in the country. Of these only 25 were dailies, 36 were semiweeklies, 15 triweeklies and 290 were weeklies. Of the 25 dailies six were published in New York, only one of which, the Evening Post, survives under its original title. The latest available figures show that there were in the United States in 1907 a total of 21,535 newspapers, reviews and such, of which 2,415 were dailies, 16,288 weeklies, 2,655 monthlies and 177 quarterlies."

Other striking figures are those of total newspaper circulation. In 1900 this was 8,168,148,749. These figures showed an increase over 1890 of 74.5 per cent, while the increase between 1880 and 1890 was 126.4 per cent. Basing his conclusions upon these figures, General Taylor estimates that the total circulation of the newspapers of the country in 1907 was not less than 10,000,000,000 copies, while he places the income from sales and advertising at $200,000,000.

Of the advance of the newspaper as a news conveying agent, General Taylor says that there never was a time when a newspaper reader got so much for his money as now, and he illustrates the point by recalling that in 1851, when America won the cup that has since become so famous, the New York and Boston papers printed only from 250 to 300 words about the event, and this a fortnight after it occurred, while at the present time the papers in these cities devote two or three pages to a cup race.

Similarly in 1861 one telegraph operator sent out all the press matter from the convention that nominated Lincoln, while at the present time a single company will have over 100 operators employed at a national convention.

"Our papers are what the people make them," says General Taylor, speaking of the quality of the matter presented. "The public decides what it wishes to read. The editors and publishers, trained in their business, gather their raw material and work it into the finished product—news—to meet the demand. Controllers of newspapers are often criticised for what they print.

"Journalists have a much heavier responsibility than any other business man. The idle, the self seeking, the untruthful, the vicious, beguile them at every hand to use the powerful engine of the press to carry them a little way along their chosen road. The editor must watch ceaselessly for these unwelcome passengers and eject them on sight. He appreciates the responsibility of his trust. He reaches his ideal as nearly as he can and does far more for the morals of the community than he is usually given credit for."

The Gyroscope Principle.

A practical application of this tendency of rotating bodies to preserve the direction of their axes has been made in Germany to the compasses used on shipboard. The needle of the ordinary mariners' compass is very sensitive. This has been necessary hitherto in order that it should maintain its direction toward the north during the motion of the ship as it moves about in different directions. It has been found, however, that the rolling and vibration of a ship interfered with the needle. If the waves were rolling high, the needle was apt to become unreliable because of its great sensitiveness to shocks. However, if when the needle was known to be in an undisturbed condition it is connected properly with a gyroscopic wheel kept continually in motion this wheel would hold the needle to its true position. The usual shocks on shipboard would have practically no effect. Experiments have been made abroad in this connection, especially with the Anschutz compass. The results of these experiments have been very favorable.—J. F. Springer in St. Nicholas.

Music-made Fat.

They were talking about the marvelous soprano.

"But how fat she is! What a pity that she is so fat!"

"Dear madam," said the music master, "good singing makes everybody fat. From Caruso down, all those singers whose method is correct take on fat amazingly.

"But it is healthy fat. In fact, it is so solid that it might almost be called muscle. To sing properly, as Caruso sings, is, you see, one of the finest and wholesomest exercises that have ever been devised. This exercise deepens and widens the chest, enlarges the neck, arms, legs and, to a certain extent, the abdomen—in a word, it envelops the singer in a healthy, elastic, well aerated tissue that, for want of a better word, we call fat.

"It isn't fat, really, though it looks like it. It is something finer, higher, nobler than fat."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Mince Pie Peril.

The lawyer for the defense: "I ask the sympathy of the court for my most unfortunate client. When he committed this homicide he was the victim of circumstances over which he had no possible control. For six years he ate his meals at a boarding house where the only dessert was mince pie. I am backed by humanity when I ask this man's acquittal on the ground of pieomania!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Rapid Destruction of Property

F. W. Fitzpatrick, consulting architect of the International Society of Building Commissioners, computes that the fire loss in the United States every year is $100,000,000 greater than the amount spent on new construction. In the estimated total loss are included the cost of fire fighting ($300,000,000) the expenditure for insurance protection (195,000,000) and the value of things destroyed by fire (200,000,000. New construction costs $600,000,000.

The per capita annual loss from fire in America not taking into account the insurance and fire-fighting charges—is $2.30 against 33 cents in Europe. It is 3.61 in Boston, Mass., against 24 cents in Dublin, Ireland.

Mr. Fitzpatrick says that the solution of the problem lies in "prevention," not in "cure." In brief, erect buildings that won't burn. A careful distinction is made between materials that are merely incombustible and those that cannot be damaged by fire. In this connection the architect says:

"Everyone has seen cases where granite, marble, lime or sand-stone, concrete, exposed ironwork and other metals, were badly damaged if not ruined by fire; therefore why use them in exposed places? Well burned brick and terra cotta suffered the least in fire, and for that reason ought to be most generally used externally. Fire, earthquake or storm has little or no effect upon a sturdy steel frame, properly protected with good brick or fireproofing tile well applied. It is the standard construction of the country, so why not use it until something better is discovered?"

Revolutionary Soldiers Graves.

The Bellefonte Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution have this year decorated all the graves of the known revolutionary soldiers in Centre county. The flags used for the decorating are those of the design of the Revolutionary times, having only the thirteen stars. In many places the soldiers of the early war lie beneath the sod with nothing to indicate a grave while many have no mark of identification. The work of carrying out this design was assigned to Mrs. Harry Valentine, who has given much time to historical research in Centre county. In some places the graves of these soldiers were decorated at the same time as the graves of the Union soldiers but this is the first occasion of their being decorated with the design of the flag under which they fought. The Union cemetery in Bellefonte and the cemeteries at Jacksonville, Curtin and Milesburg were among those where the decorations were made.

Centre—Clinton League.

Three interesting games of ball were played by the teams of the Clinton—Centre league on Wednesday. The Snow Shoe Coal Barons went down to Orvis in the forenoon and the Mountaineers took a game from them by the score of 10 to 4. The second game for the day was played in the afternoon when the tables turned and the Coal Barons defeated the Mountaineers by a 7 to 3 score. One of the fastest games of the season was that at Mill Hall when the Howard Millionaires shut out the Ponies, the Millionaires having been held down to 2 runs. The time occupied for the game was one hour and twenty minutes and ten minutes of that time was lost in reviving one of the catchers who was knocked out for that length of time.

At a meeting of the executive committee the other day it was decided that the game at Howard last Saturday which the umpire declared forfeited by the Snow Shoe team be played to a finish. The date has not been set for this game. That game is not counted in the following standing of the clubs,

	won	lost	P. C.
Howard	2	0	1.000
Orvis	3	1	.750
Beech Creek	2	1	.667
Mill Hall	2	2	.500
Snow Shoe	2	3	.400
Woolrich	0	4	.000

Schedule for Saturday.
Orvis at Beech Creek, 4 p. m.
Orvis at Mill Hall, 1:30 p. m.

Looking up His Interest.

Last Thursday's Philipsburg Daily Journal had the following to say concerning one of our fellow townsmen:

There was a hearty welcome extended our friend, W. Harrison Walker, Esq., of Bellefonte, while in Philipsburg last evening and this morning. The fact that he is the Democratic nominee for Congress in the district elicited much favorable comment here, and has aroused his numerous friends in this part of the county to their best efforts given Mr. Walker even more than a mere complimentary vote in November. They recognize in him those qualities that are admired much among men—energy, ability and sterling worth of the highest order. He ranks among the foremost practitioners at the Centre County Bar; and as an orator and public speaker won an enviable reputation among our people, having delivered upon a recent Memorial Day one of the most forceful and eloquent addresses ever heard.

From all sections the most encouraging reports come favorable to his candidacy, and if Philipsburg is any criterion his prospects next fall are the most flattering. In our judgment, Mr. Walker will make an ideal representative—one whom the public would find most zealous in the discharge of every duty, competent and efficient, and on all great questions affecting public interests he would always be found championing the cause of the common people, at the right time and in the right way, because he is one of them.

EARTHQUAKE AT ALLENTOWN

City Excited When Buildings Rock and Chimneys Tumble Down

THE SHOCK WAS LIGHT

The People Rushed Out of Their Homes in Great Alarm—Children were Upset and Crockery Broken

SLIPPING OF LIMESTONE STRATA

Allentown, May 31.—What is believed th have a distinct earthquake shock threw all Allentown into a state of excitement at 12 57 o'clock this afternoon. The shock was of such intensity as to rock buildings. bang shutters, rattle windows, break crockery, tumble down two or three rickety chimneys and upset small children. The shock was felt at Catasauqua, threee miles away.

People rushed out of their homes in great alarm. Mothers carried out their children in fear that the buildings were about to fall.

At first it was thought that a battery of boilers in fome local industry had exploded, but absolutely nothing has been learned of any such accident, so that the conclusion has finally been reached that the disturbance was due to a local earthquake, caused by the slipping of the strata of limestone underlaying the city.

The 'quake was accompanied by a low rumbling noise, and lasted about two seconds. A light breeze, lasting several seconds, followed, giving the affair all the appearance of an earthquake.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. The True Mechanic.

After a man has worked in shops for ten or fifteen years there is a great desire for a change. Some want to go out on a farm, others think that the invention of something that can be patented will solve the problem, while others want to own and run a shop themselves. The latter is really the true mechanic, but not necessarily the man who will get out the most or even the best work while working for a boss, says Charles Henry in the Workers' Magazine. On the contrary, he will often be considered the lazy man by the foreman when the work is of an ever recurring character. Let, however, some difficulty arise in connection with a job or have some hard proposition to meet and he will always have a suggestion to offer that will help to solve the problem, while the ordinary man and the hustler will stand around helpless and often disinterested. He will have the elementary laws of mechanics and physics at his finger tips, will know enough of electricity to allow him to discourse upon the subject in an intelligent manner, and he will be well posted upon the mechanical progress of the day.

A Dressmaker of Yarmouth.

In the churchyard of Caister, close to Yarmouth, is the grave of the "quiet, little, gentle voiced dressmaker," of whom at her death in October, 1843, the then bishop of Norwich said, "I would canonize Sarah Martin if I could." Yarmouth reveres her to this day. A stained glass window has been placed to her memory in the parish church, where her prayer book is still preserved, while her journal is one of the treasures of the public library in the tollhouse. Underneath this building was the miserable dungeon which served as the borough prison, and it was to the amelioration of the lot of the wretched prisoners that Sarah Martin devoted her life. Earning a bare subsistence of fifteen pence a day by toiling from early morning till far on into the night, she yet managed to give up one day in the week to her labor of love. She died in poverty, but the result of her life's work was the reform of the prison system of Yarmouth.—London Chronicle.

Burned It Into Memory.

One of the most characteristically eccentric things ever done by Gelett Burgess (and one of the few true stories of him) was to spend three or four days in constructing of cardboard, mica and green velvet a little model of an old New England house, complete as to windows, curtains, lawn, garden, trees and even including a hammock with a tiny hat and summer novel and washing stretched out on a clothesline on the back stoop. This was for a dinner given to several literary friends in New York, and when the coffee was served he deliberately set fire to the whole farm. His explanation was that had it been spared his guests might have forgotten the affair, but they would always remember the destruction of the house. No one who ever saw the little house go up in smoke on its little hill of damp moss will ever forget it.

The Misplaced Comma.

"Some lawsuits of the highest importance have hinged upon the right placing of a comma," said a judge.

"When I first started to practice law a Missouri editor came to me in a peck of trouble to defend him against a threatened libel suit growing out of faulty punctuation. He had not meant to give some innocent young women the slightest offense when he wrote a story about 'two young men who went with their girls to attend a lecture and after they left, the girls got drunk.' Putting that miserable little comma out of its right place did the work, as it made the girls the ones who became inebriated instead of their escorts. I managed by proper diplomacy and the publication of a neat apology to stave off the damage suits, and afterward my editorial friend became an expert on punctuation."—Baltimore American.

Taunting.

Old Noah hunted up a barrel stave and started off for the stern of the ark.

"Where are you going?" asked Mrs. Noah.

"I am going to whale that boy Ham," replied Noah, with a frown.

"But, my dear, the lad is only playing on his banjo."

"Yes, but it is the tune he is playing."

"And what is the tune?"

"'Wait Till the Sun Shines, Lizzie.'"—Chicago News.

Angry Adjectives.

It was not a young woman novelist, but Charles Sumner, of whom the late E. L. Godkin, the New York editor, said:

He works his adjectives so hard that if they ever catch him alone they will murder him.

American Woman in German Eyes.

American girls, whether born or merely brought up in America, evidence the same independence of judgment and the same complete self reliance. It is hard to say whether this is the result of the education in the public schools and colleges or in their freedom from that condition of legal and social subserviency to which the gentler sex is doomed in older countries.—Max von Brandt in Berlin Deutsche Revue.

Quite a "Character."

Here is a "character" given to a servant on leaving her last situation: "The bearer has been in my house a year, less eleven months. During this time she has shown herself diligent at the house door, frugal in work, mindful of herself, prompt in excuses and honest when everything was out of the way."—London Tit-Bits.

Awed Into Humility.

Man for man, if not woman for woman, the humility and terror of Americans in the presence of English people of their own class or above it is, with whatever care disguised, a pathetic thing.—London Outlook.

A Little Too Far.

"There is such a thing as overdoing your part," declared a man of the law who now has the knowledge gained by much experience.

"Shortly after I began practice in the west I was called upon to defend a man who had drawn a revolver on another and threatened to kill him. The accused did not have a character above reproach, but the prosecuting witness was also shady in reputation and I made the most of this fact. I pictured him as a desperado of the most dangerous type, a man that was a constant menace to the community and one who would recognize no other law than that of force. Such men as he, I insisted, made necessary the organization of vigilance committees and injured the fair name of the west among the older communities of the country.

"The jury returned a verdict of guilty and my man was sentenced to a year's imprisonment. As soon as court adjourned the foreman of the jury came to me and said: 'Young feller, you spread it on too thick. After that there rip snortin' speech of yourn we couldn't do nothin' else 'an what we done.'

"'I don't understand you, sir.'

"'You don't? Why, we found the durned gerloot guilty 'cause he didn't shoot.'"—Detroit Free Press.

To Clean Suede Gloves.

Put the gloves on the hands and then rub them with fuller's earth on a small brush. An old nail or tooth brush will do excellently. Some people use fuller's earth and powdered alum in equal quantities instead of the earth alone.

Just praise is only a debt, but flattery is a present.—French Proverb.

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, Do You Open Your Mouth Like a Young Bird and Gulp Down Whatever Food or Medicine May be Offered You?

If you are an intelligent, thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true, honest medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible indorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of medical practice, are not afraid to print, as they do, the list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, so injurious to delicate women even in small quantities when long continued. Neither does it contain any narcotics, or other harmful, or habit-forming drugs and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised by its manufacturers.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration? It certainly is entitled to far more weight than any number of non-professional, or lay testimonials.

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authorative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the organs distinctly feminine. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvis, backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has gnawing feeling in stomach, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a weakening disagreeable drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition, as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and has a record of over forty years and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as sacredly confidential and an answer is returned in plain sealed envelope. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. They are the original Little Liver Pills having been put out for sale by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. One to three a dose. Tiny sugar-coated granules; easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a most potent alterative, or blood-purifier, and tonic, or invigorator, and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucuous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous diarrhea), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is often successful in affecting cures.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took 10 $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

THE June bride and the sweet graduate will occupy the centre of the stage for a few weeks.

A spider eats twenty-seven times its weight in one day. Among the things for which a man can be thankful, at the present price of marketing, is that he is built on another plan.

THE argument in favor of making Memorial Day the last Sunday in May receives additional emphasis with each passing year. If the day is to be what its founders intended something like that will have to be done.

THE toys of one of the little Vanderbilts is said to be insured for $25,000. And there are times, doubtless, when the youngster would give them all for the privilege of sallying forth barefooted to make mud pies in the gutter.

NEW YORK's department of agriculture has been inquiring how many high school boys in the cities want vacation work on the farms, and in a short time has received a list of 2,500 from New York city alone. If the work is not made too hard for beginners the idea is likely to be valuable.

ADVERTING to the failure of so many boys to complete their high school course the Connelsville Daily News truthfully says: "In most high schools it is the custom of the boys to stop school before they graduate to earn a living for themselves, while the girls usually continue until the end. That the boys are abandoning this practice and are getting all the education that is placed at their disposal by a liberal public is a healthful sign. Men of ability and education are needed to help guide the city, county, state and national governments to higher planes and the high school is one of the most important factors in providing the necessary training."

The Dog and his Master.

From the New York World.

The farm house that does not possess its dog is a rarity, and frequently it possesses not merely one dog, but half a dozen. Generally the farm dog is a worthless cur in the market or the general estimation; but to his owner he is a priceless possession. Upon an animal that would not sell for a dollar, the owner will gladly pay a tax of $2 a year for perhaps fourteen or fifteen years, and he and his neighbors would defeat at the polls any legislative candidate who proposed to fetter the liberties of the honest, tax-paying farm dog. Propositions which seek to alter this state of affairs do not reckon with the psychology of it. Economically, legislatively, the dog is a mere animal and an unprofitable one. In the heart of a man, however, he is something more. He is the creature to whom the man turns for consolation when buffed and wronged by men and women—and always finds it. As a matter of profit, the balance against the dog is heavy. Herein lies his unassailable strength. He is kept, not for business reasons, but for causes deeply rooted in the affections. If he is a nuisance, he is the hardest nuisance in the world to suppress.

PARENTS who permit their boys to run the streets must not be surprised if the boys get mischief.

THE forces of nature are losing no time these days, but are laboring twenty-four hours a day to ripen the grain and the fruit.

THE young man who is just beginning the journey of life will do well to remember that a spotless record is one's most valuable asset.

CONGRESSMEN are not having an easy time getting away from Washinton but some of them will have a much harder time getting back.

THERE are a thousand reasons why a man should not get drunk, but when he is out with the "boys" he cannot think of a single one of them.

THE man who cheerfully gives a a dollar to charity and then throws a banana peel on the sidewalk is not very consistent but he is decidedly human.

If every servant of the people would simply do the bost he knows how there would soon arrive a wonderful change in the management of public affairs.

THE past is secure. What the republic most urgently needs is young citizens who in private life will practice the courage display of their predecessor who struggled treason.

Now doesn't it seem a waste of time to dispute about who is going to get the Pennsylvani delegates to Denver. The state convention has already decided that Guffey gets them.

SOME one has started the rumor that President Roosevelt will attend the Chicago convention. It is hardly possible that he will be there in person, but inall probability he will be there in spirit.

It is unfortunate that any of the indicted individuals in connection with the scheme to rob the state should be threatened by nervous breakdown, but then the taxpayers are not to blame for that.

THE sons of rest, who are to meet at Chicago to devise means of dodging work, are on the wrong track if they love to loaf. They should remember Aristotle's saying that the end of labor is to gain leisure.

THE government has a commission which is to study how to make the farmer happier. We think the solution of this problem is with himself at present as he is prospering as he never prospered before.

THE $100 fine imposed upon a merchant in criminal court in Pittsburg after he had pleaded guilty to selling cigarettes to minors, should have examplary effect in other towns. If fines were imposed here there would be several hundred dollars due every minute of the day, as the law perscribes the penalty for giving a minor a cigarette as it does to the merchant for selling.

A Victory for Pure Water.

A recent decision by the supreme court upholding the validity of the "purity of water" act of 1905 is of personal importonce to every to every resident of the state.

Edward Emmers, who operates a hosiory mill in Montgomery county was ordered by Health Commissioner Dixon to discontinue emptying sewage from the mill into the Schuykill river. Mr. Emmers refused to comply and was prosecuted by the department of health.

In the Montgomery county court Emmers was convicted of violating the purity of water law by polluting a stream with sewage. Appeal was taken by him to the supreme court, Both of the appellate courts upheld the Montgomery county courts.

This is the first test of the law and proves beyond reasonable contravention that the state was entirely within its rights in enacting such a police regulation for the protection of the public and placing the exercises of such power in the hands of the commissioner of health.

FIVE weeks from Saturday will be Fourth of July and already the deadly fireweeks are beginning to claim their victims. The first accident comes from Pittsburg where a dangerous torpedo has been placed on the market. Too much caution cannot be used in connection with fireworks.

The Laws are Made for all.

Demagogues have been able to lead the thoughtless masses into the belief that there could and should be one one kind of law for capital and another kind for labor; that it was illegal for capital to combine its forces for greater strength, while it was entirely proper for labor to enter into combinations for the purpose; that it was wrong for the creators of an industry to restrict its output and regulate its prices, but right and proper for farmers to combine to restrict the production of cotton or any other commodity, so as to maintain its price on a satisfactory level. The very foundations of justice were thus undermined, for when justice fails to be impartial it ceases to be justice. If there can be a law for capital and another kind of law for labor, there is no such thing as law, for law in its very essence means jutice, and when it becomes anything else it becomes a menace rather than a safeguard.—Leslie's Weekly.

MUSICAL MYSTERY GAME.

A Missing Word Story That Will Interest Little Folks.

An interesting little musical game may be played in the following manner: Have as many slips of paper as there are guests and write on each slip a story after the following example, omitting the words with a musical significance and substituting dashes in their stead. The guests are requested to read the story and to supply the missing words, having had it explained to them that the wanted words must be musical terms. The words to be omitted appear in parentheses:

Story.—John Smith was the (minor) son of (Major) Smith, who belonged to the (staff) of a newspaper of (note). The (rest) of the Smith family were pleasant people, loving a good (time). They were (natural) in manner, and the (theme) of their conversation was always agreeable. John's father, the (major), would often (pitch) into a hot discussion on politics, for his reasoning was (sharp). John's younger sister could sing a (solo) admirably, her voice being full of (melody) and never (flat). But she required a good piano for her use, one that was in splendid (tune).

To the boy or girl who fills the spaces with the correct words or come nearest to doing so a simple prize may be given. A sheet of music would be quite appropriate. Ten minutes should be allowed the players in which to supply the story with the missing words.

Who's It For Spoons?

In this game one person takes his stand in the center of the circle, blindfolded and his hands extended before him, in each of which he holds a large spoon. The other players march around him, clapping their hands in time to a tune, which may be sung or played upon the piano in any slow measure suitable for marching. When the blind player calls out "Spoons," the others stop. He then finds his way to any player that he can and must ascertain who he is by touching him with the spoons only, which he may use as he pleases. If he guesses correctly the one whom he is "spooning," that one is blindfolded, and the game is played again as before.

Conundrums.

When are silks like the clouds? When changeable.

When is a book like the holy days? When lent.

When is a child at school and a rope alike? When taught (taut).

When is a message like a train of cars? When special.

When is a boat like a hatter fitting a cap? When it is cap-sized (carsized).

A Dangerous Feat.

For a feat of dexterity and nerve it would be difficult to surpass that of the Bosjesman of South Africa, who [illegible] quietly up to a puff adder and deliberately sets his bare foot on its [illegible]. In its struggles to escape and [illegible]s to bite its assailant the poi[illegible] and secretes a large amount of [illegible] venom. This is just what the Bosjesman wants. Killing the snake, he eats the body and uses the poison for his arrows.

Catarrh, the Bane of the World
Pe-ru-na, the Standard Remedy.

HOT WEATHER CATARRH.

Affects the Stomach, Kidneys, Bowels, Pelvic Organs.

COLD WEATHER CATARRH.

Affects the Head, Throat, Lungs, Bronchial Tubes.

Catarrh is recognized all over the civilized world as a formidable disease. In the United States alone, two hundred thousand people have catarrh annually. In other countries the ratio or victims is as great.

For many years Pe-ru-na has held the foremost place as a standard remedy for catarrh.

Persons objecting to liquid medicines can now purchase Pe-ru-na tablets.

SEWING SUGGESTIONS.

To prevent knots in cotton while sewing always thread your needle before cutting the cotton from the spool. This will prevent both knots and twisting.

Baby's bibs are prettily embroidered in the cross stitch with coarse embroidery cotton. The designs used are pictures of animals, birds and other things that appeal to the infant mind, and as the cross stitch is one of the easiest methods of embroidery baby's belongings can always be decorated in this way.

What the circular skirt was a few years ago we now see the godet pattern. The skirt portion is fitted smoothly over the hips, and the fro[illegible] is cut in a decided point. To this is attached the plaited flounce, which is short in front and high in the back. For a linen skirt the pattern is graceful and stylish.

For the baby is made a lovely little coat of white handkerchief linen lined with washable white china silk. A circular collar is trimmed with a lace ruffle, and the little sleeves and all edges are trimmed in like fashion. The pattern is first embroidered with small blue forgetmenots, and the coatee is tied with blue ribbons.

The Lotus Eaters.

The race of people to whom the name "Lotus Eaters" was applied was a Lybian tribe, known to the Greeks as early as the time of Homer. Heredotus describes their country and says that a caravan route led from it to Egypt. The lotus still grows there in great abundance—a prickly shrub bearing a fruit of a sweet taste, compared by Herodotus to that of the date. It is still eaten by the natives, and a kind of wine is made from its juice.

Superfluous.

Copy Reader—How will it do to head this story "A Growing Scandal?" City Editor—Cut out the "growing." That's redundant. A scandal always grows.—Chicago Tribune.

The Pope's Joke.

Under a Rome headline the Hebrew Standard says: The Vatican is chuckling over a little jest by the pope. He has a friend in Venice who is sick. During the week he received in audience a Jewish gentleman who is also a friend of the invalid. In bidding his visitor farewell the pope said:

"If you see our friend tell him I send him my apostolic blessing."

"But, your holiness," objected the other, "I am a Jew."

"That does not matter," retorted the pope: "the goods are all right, though the packing may be bad."

Though at the expense of the Jewish gentleman, we can all laugh.

The Efficacy of Prayer.

Among my esteemed neighbors there is a family known for the piety of its members and their implicit confidence in the efficacy of prayer. One of the daughters, Miss Kate B., has almost reached the age when she could be referred to ungallantly as an old maid. She is the target for many a good natured quip pertaining to her alleged hopes and endeavors in the direction of matrimony.

Not long ago a certain society of young men which had interested itself in a campaign for higher saloon license sent a committee to visit the homes of the district and obtain signatures to a high license petition. When this committee, numbering half a dozen members, ascended the front steps at the B. home my friend's wife was the first to see it through the front window.

"Laws, John!" she exclaimed to her husband. "See all those young men coming to visit us."

Mr. B. glanced out of the window, noted the number of the invading force and remarked, with an air of conviction:

"Humph! Kate's been praying again."—San Francisco Call.

Keeping Cake Pans Free [illegible]

No matter how many devices there are in the way of patent cake pans, nothing gives more general satisfaction for layer cake than to line the pans with buttered paper.

It is a good idea to buy 10 cents' worth of the common yellow wrapping paper that is used in grocery stores, and some day when you have a little extra leisure cut these sheets to fit the different pans used. Thus some may be circular, others square or oblong and a few with a hole in the center for the Turk's head pans used for fruit or pound cakes.

Put these papers carefully away in the pantry closet, and they will prove worth their weight in eggs at present day prices when you come to bake your cakes on a crowded Saturday morning.

Do not grease the pan, only the top of the paper.

When the cake is done, then it should be turned upside down on a cloth and the paper pulled off as quickly as possible.

Wasteful.

Grasper (a very careful man)—No, I should never allow my daughter to marry a journalist. He always wastes one side of the paper. And still less should she wed a poet. He doesn't even go to the end of the line.

A Correction.

Are You Nervous?

Nervousness and sleeplessness are usually due to the fact that the nerves are not fed on properly nourishing blood they are starved nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood, and thereby the nerves are properly nourished and all the organs of the body are run as smoothly as machinery which runs in oil. In this way you feel clean strong and strenuous you are toned up and invigorated, and you are good for a whole lot of physical or mental work. Best of all, the strength and increase in vitality and health are lasting.

The trouble with most tonics and medicines which have a large booming sale for a short time, is that they are largely composed of alcohol holding the drugs in solution. This alcohol shrinks up the red blood corpuscles, and in the long run greatly injures the system. One may feel exhilarated and better for the time being, yet in the end weakened and with vitality decreased. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol. Every bottle of it bears upon its wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in a full list of all its several ingredients. For the druggist to offer you something he claims is "just as good" is to insult your intelligence.

"The Spitfire"

Early in June, an exciting new serial story will begin publication in the Sunday edition of The Philadelphia Press.

"The Spitfire" is a story of intense interest to lovers of new fiction. This story was secured exclusively for The Philadelphia Sunday Press at great cost and cannot be had in book form at the present time. Tell your carrier or newsdealer to serve you with The Sunday Press each week, beginning at once and begin reading this great story. The Sunday Press is brimful of other exceedingly good features. The Comic Section with Hairbreadth Harry and other equally interesting comic characters amuses hundreds of thousands. The Woman's Magazine section is without equal. The Sporting news of all kinds, including the latest and most up-to-date baseball news has won for The Sunday Press a great host of permanent readers. Order The Sunday Press today.

Weak women should read my "Book No. 4 For Women". It was written expressly for women who are not well. The Book No. 4 tells of Dr. Shoop's "Night Cure" and just how these soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories can be successfully applied. The book, and strictly confidential medical advice is entirely free. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Night Cure is sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Correspondence.

Howard.

John D. Thompson who has been confined to the house since last fall is again able to be out and is daily enjoying a buggy ride.

Wm. Ertley, wife and daughter of State College were the guests of friends in town last week.

Mrs Devine and Mrs. Charles Hoffman and son of Ridley Park, Philadelphia, are visiting at the home of John Holmes.

Mrs. Al Diehl of State College was among the many visitors in town last week.

Miss Belle Holmes of Lock Haven visited friends in Howard recently.

The population of the township was increased by one when a son made his appearance at the home of Burdine Butler.

Sherman Holter of Somerset visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Shuman Holter over Sunday.

R. M. Neff and John A. Thompson, both of Tyrone attended Memorial services in this their native town on Saturday. Both are members of the P. O. S. of A. and participated with that order.

Mrs. John Foresman was taken to the Bellefonte hospital last week for an operation and at last reports was getting along nicely.

Miss Lulu Stover of Mill Hall who taught the primary school during the last term, finished a very successful term of summer school here on Friday and has returned to her home.

M. N. Ziegler a former resident of this place but now employed in Altoona visited relatives and friends in town over Sunday.

Mrs. Duke Gladhill and sister Miss Flora Pletcher were to Altoona last Friday where they visited their brother Asbury who was injured at Vail station the night previous.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Daughenbaugh, of Mt. Eagle were guests at the home of her mother Mrs. James Hays over Memorial day.

The social at the residence of James Holter on Memorial day was well patronized and the proceeds for the church amounted to a nice sum.

Mrs. E. C. Dietz and daughter Lulu were Bellefonte visitors on Monday.

Josephine and Harry Muffly did shopping in Bellefonte Tuesday evening.

Mrs. C. C. Lucas and daughter were visitors in Bellefonte on Monday.

On Memorial day when flags were on display in many places a sparrow alighted on a flag stick at the Kline and Wolf store and perched there for some time. The American Eagle is almost extinct but it is not very desirable that the sparrow become the National bird.

Joseph Murray and Dr. Tibbens and wife of Beech Creek, and R. M. Bennison of Abdera were guests at the Bennison home last Thursday, it being the occasion of Mrs. Bennison's birthday anniversary.

Memorial day was observed in the usual fitting manner this year. In the forenoon a delegation of the Post went to Jacksonville where services were held and the graves of the soldiers were decorated. In the afternoon at 1:15 the usual services were conducted here. The parade was headed by the Howard band and was participated in by the Post, the Odd Fellows and the P. O. S. of A. The customary services were held at the cemetery after which the ceremonies were finished in the Methodist church which adjoins the cemetery. Hon. John A. Woodward acted as chairman. Special music had been prepared by the selected choir and several recitations were given by the children. The orator of the day was Col. H. S. Taylor of Bellsfonte. In his earnest manner the colonel reviewed the life of the soldier and made a strong appeal for the teaching of patriotism to the young. He praised the veterans for what they did for their country and paid a glowing tribute to Governor Curtin. The G. A. R. and the citizens were well pleased with the address. Hon. John A. Daley recited a very touching poem at the close of the ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson and three children of Centre Hall were visitors at the home of Mrs. Marius Miner over Sunday.

Mrs. Liggett of Beech Creek and Mrs. Sallie Gray of Filmore were callers in Howard Tuesday to see Mrs. Mary Holter, whose serious illness has been mentioned previously.

Dr. H. E. Brady of Lock Haven made a professional visit to Howard on Tuesday.

Overseer D. W. Holter and Squire Hayes Schenck transacted business in Mill on Monday.

Children's services were appropriately observed at the Christian chapel Sunday evening. The church was crowded to overflowing there being almost as many people who were compelled to remain outside as there were in the crowded building. The children were drilled by Miss Treona Pletcher.

The small number of veterans in line on Memorial day has again impressed us with the need of a camp of Sons of Veterans in Howard. There are plenty of young men here who are sons or grandsons of the heroes of '61 to '65 to establish a strong camp.

Millheim.

County Superintendent Etters held an examination of teachers here on Monday.

S. J. Barnitz of Mifflinburg and T. N. Reber of Lewisburg was in town on Monday.

The cherry, plum and pear crops will not be as large as was expected. The rains have been too much for the advancement of the said fruits.

On last Saturday about the time that the Decoration services were to take place, the rain came down in torrents, and it was postponed until Sunday. Many people came to town on Sunday afternoon, and the parade was formed about 4 o'clock, Sunday schools under the marshalship of Dr. F. E. Gutelius and P. H. Musser, G. A. R. and Knights of the Golden Eagle participated in the exercises The oration was delivered by Chester E. Hall Esq., of Williamsport. Mr. Hall is a fine speaker, and it was remarked by many, as one of the best efforts that our people have heard for a long time. Aaronsburg cornet band furnished the music. Prayer and benediction by Rev. W. D. Donat of the Reformed church.

W. R. Anderson of Philadelphia was in town for a few days at the home of Henry Muller on Penn street. Mrs. Anderson has been visiting here for about two months, and they left for their home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Laura Luse, nee Held, of Williamsport is visiting here for a few days.

The frequent rains interfere with the work of the farmers and others.

JOHN L DUNLAP
C A WEAVER } Commissioners
JOHN G. BAILEY

Attest—JAMES H. CORL, Clerk.
Commissioners' Office, Bellefonte, Pa.
May 6, 1908.

Elsie Bottorff who is employed at Oak Hall spent Sunday with her parents.

Mrs. Annah Witherite and daughter Eva have returned home after a brief visit to Philipsburg and Osceola.

Mrs. Martin Brower and children of Philipsburg were guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Jayne Lucas recently.

Miss Tacy Lucas was one among the number on Memorial day to deliver a recitation to the old soldier boys in blue. The recitation was a very appropriate one for such an occasion, and many congratulations were rendered to the speaker.

Mrs. Claude Lucas and interesting little children Eugene, Eunice and Le Moyne of Snow Shoe visited their parental home during the week.

C. B. Freil and wife are spending some time at Bellwood.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

School Board Organizes.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bellefonte school board was held Monday evening. The business of the evening consisted of the work of settling up the accounts for the year just closed and the organization of the new board. H. C. Quigley was elected president of the board, G. R. Parker treasurer and J. K. Barnhart secretary for the ensuing year.

There were two applicants for the position as supervising principal of the schools, Prof. John D. Meyer, whose term had expired, and Prof. Jonas E. Wagner of the high school faculty. The ballot resulted in five votes for Prof. Meyer and four votes for Prof. Wagner. The superintendent is elected for three years and the salary was fixed at $150 per year.

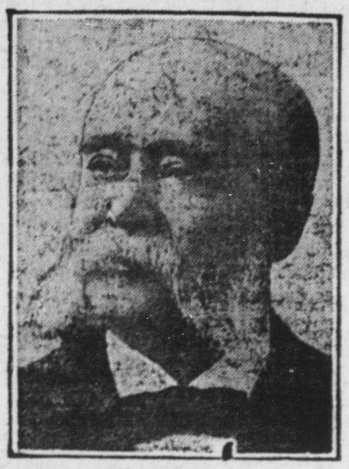
STEWART L. WOODFORD.

Chief of Hughes Boomers, Who Missed Being Governor and President.

General Stewart L. Woodford, who as president of the National Hughes league is head boomer of Governor Charles E. Hughes of New York for the Republican presidential nomination, is one of the four delegates at large from New York state to the Republican national convention at Chicago. He claims at least 110 votes for his candidate at Chicago on the first ballot.

General Woodford is one of the veterans of the New York bar, and the Empire State's favorite for the nomination at Chicago occupied a desk in his law office for a time. They have been fast friends since then. General Woodford once narrowly missed being governor of New York himself, and he has been talked of at various times as his party's candidate for vice president. In fact, as long ago as the convention of 1876 he received sixty votes for that nomination, but when New York state was reached in the roll call he withdrew in favor of William A. Wheeler. Four years later, at the convention which nominated Garfield for the presidency, General Woodford was practically slated for the vice presidential nomination. It was at this convention that Conkling led the movement for a third term for General Grant. On the failure of this movement and the nomination of Garfield General Woodford suggested that in order to gain Conkling's favor for the Garfield ticket his special friend, General Arthur, be named for second place. The suggestion was acted upon. About a year later Garfield died, and it was Arthur instead of Woodford who became president.



GENERAL STEWART L. WOODFORD.

It was in 1870 that General Woodford ran for governor of New York. That was in Tweed's time, and the general's friends have always claimed that he was cheated out of the election. He was born in 1835 and is a graduate of Columbia university, having received various degrees from that and other learned institutions. He was a delegate from New York to the convention which nominated Lincoln, made a record for distinguished service in the field during the civil war and further earned the gratitude of the nation by his able handling of delicate duties as minister to Spain just prior to the outbreak of war with that country.

Speaking of the practice of law, General Woodford once said:

"In these times only large law firms can hope to do large business. And there must be partnerships of different talents, not of the same. A firm should have if possible a member who knows the law, another who knows how to receive clients and do the agreeable, a third who is a practical man of business and, lastly, one who goes about wearing nice clothes, making pretty speeches, offering himself to be interviewed and posing at all times and places, a true knight of the carpet."

King Snob.

Richard Nordhausen in "Kunstwart" enlarges on the power of a new monarch whom he calls "King Snob." "Snob," he says, using the English word despite the German emperor's request to omit the use of foreign words, "makes our fashions not only in our theaters and our bookstores, but even decrees at the art exhibitions which pictures shall be a la vogue, for, unseen, he occupies a place on the jury. Snob indicates also which of the composers are 'great.' Snob creates all the art fashions which have their origin in the large cities. We should not be deceived. Of the imposing artistic community which makes the laws for the great cities of Germany seven-eighths regard art with the eyes of the 'know nothing.' They crowd to the front the men with big heads and legs like matches and hinder the progress of those whose talent is not supported by clan and bell. This power destroys culture." The writer makes a powerful plea against the rule of "King Snob" and "snobismus."

Boone's Portrait In Oil.

There never was but one oil portrait of Daniel Boone painted from life, and that was by Chester Harding, a distinguished artist of Boston, who came to Missouri in June, 1820, and painted it in the residence of Flanders Callaway, Boone's son-in-law, where Boone was then living, near the village of Marthasville, in Warren county. The Rev. James E. Welch, one of the oldest Baptist preachers in the state and father of Aikman Welch, attorney general of Missouri during Governor Gamble's administration, sat in Boone's bed behind Boone for him to lean against while Harding painted the picture, the pioneer being too feeble to sit alone. Harding's portrait of Boone now hangs in the state capitol at Frankfort, Ky.—Kansas City Star.

A Hair Dressing

If you wish a high-class hair dressing, we are sure Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, will greatly please you. It keeps the hair soft and smooth, makes it look rich and luxuriant, prevents splitting at the ends. And it keeps the scalp free from dandruff.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Ayer's — Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says

At the same time the new Ayer's Hair Vigor is a strong hair tonic, promoting the growth of the hair, keeping all the tissues of the hair and scalp in a healthy condition. The hair stops falling, dandruff disappears. A splendid dressing.

If milk cans and utensils are washed thoroughly and scalded last without subsequent wiping they will be much freer from contamination by bacteria than if scalded and wiped dry with a rag.

The 1,300 pound draft horse at three years old can always be counted on by the horse raiser as a safe and profitable proposition. During the past few years such an animal has been worth from 10 to 12 cents per pound.

The heifer calf that is intended for dairy use should not be given too fattening a ration. Oats, grass and milk, with a scant ration of shelled corn, will furnish about what she needs for her proper development.

Some one who has tried it says that if flour of sulphur is mixed liberally with the seed corn in the planter box the cutworms will not touch the corn so treated. It is certainly an easy and inexpensive recipe and at least worth trying.

The colt that is halter broken at the start and trained and handled as he grows not only makes a much more tractable horse at three years old, he also one that will fetch a considerably higher price on the market because of this very fact.

When the flock of hens is confined at close range and no green food is available, cut green stuff, preferably lawn cuttings, should be given to them in generous allowance every day or two. The greediness with which they devour it not only shows that they relish it, but that their systems need it.

A proper combination of spade and elbow grease will make the worms working in the earth in the hen yard available for consumption as animal food. The hens will not only be better off for the food which they get thus, but the chap who works the spade handle will get exercise that will do him good.

Where a decent amount of preliminary road work and grading has been done roads can be kept in fair shape if no other implement is used than broad tired wagons for hauling produce to market. These tend to mash lumps of dirt, fill up the ruts and pack the earth down so that it will shed water in first class shape when it rains.

A good many municipalities place a minimum butter fat limit of 3 per cent for all peddled milk. If the dignitaries who framed these ordinances had to put up with milk that tested less than the above per cent in their coffee and on their oatmeal, a good deal more vigor would be manifested in the prosecution of violators of the regulation.

A New York farmer reports success in the use of common stovepipe soot as a cure for scours in calves. An old method of preparing the dose was to take a tablespoonful of soot, mix it with the white and yolk of an egg, put it back in the shell and place the filled shell far back in the mouth of the afflicted calf. Another cure for the scours is to put a small amount of formalin in the milk ration.

If the slugs start to work on the currant and gooseberry bushes, they may be dusted with powdered white hellebore, or the same may be applied as a spray, made by mixing one ounce of the chemical in two gallons of water. Paris green is also effective and may be applied in the form of dust, using one pound of the poison to twenty pounds of flour. If the dust spray is used, it is best to apply it when the dew is on the leaves.

One of the thoughts that come to a visitor to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado is of the enormous length of time that must have been consumed in the geological formation of the gigantic shapes and depth of rock found in places there and the eons of years following that were required in the transformation of what is supposed to have been the bed of an immense lake into a river valley in which flowing water has cut a channel in places 6,000 feet deep.

While European and Asiatic countries have forms of animal and bird life to be found nowhere else, the American continent seems to possess an exclusive monopoly of humming birds. Of the four hundred odd varieties nearly all are to be found in the tropical regions. Only eighteen cross the borders of the United States from Mexico, and all but one or two varieties spend their summers in the southern states. While this tiny bird does secure some honey from flowers, its food consists chiefly of small insects which are found in the vicinity of flower beds, many of which are injurious to the flowers. Thus in the case of this smallest representative of bird life it seems to have been created not only as a thing of beauty, but for the performance of a helpful mission.

The average farmer, constituted as most of them are, will have better success if he devotes his energies to the raising of either a strictly beef or dairy breed of cattle rather than to what is generally understood as a dual purpose breed.

One who has suffered a good deal in past years as a result of ivy poisoning writes that a very simple and effective cure is the application to the affected parts of a paste made by moistening fresh hardwood ashes with water. Our friend states that this seldom fails to give immediate relief.

Where an individual pupil in the town or country school becomes a source of more injury to the industry and government of the school which he attends than he derives in benefit from the educational advantages which are available it is time that he was handed his walking papers and told to get out.

Specific instructions sent out with almost every cream separator put on the market are to the effect that the machine should be thoroughly washed and scalded each time it is used. When it is considered that in extreme cases slovenly patrons do not clean their separators oftener than once a week it is not surprising that the use of the separator in some localities is not resulting in a materially improved dairy product.

Daily papers in the larger cities report an unusual exodus of young people to the country. It's a wholesome movement and will tend to adjust the inequality in the supply of labor which has made it well nigh impossible for the granger to get satisfactory labor at any price, while soft handed clerks in creased trousers and standup collars have unrolled bolts of dry goods behind mahogany counters on a salary of $7.59 a week.

Under no circumstances should the unsophisticated country girl go to a large city on a tempting offer of high wages unless the position she has in view has been certified to by a person of high morality unto whom she has absolute confidence. In all too many cases girls are wont to view these offers as bona fide only to find by bitter experience that they were traps set by unprincipled or immoral schemers to lure them to the city.

Root crops—potatoes, turnips, rutabagas and the like—do especially well in sections where there is an abundance of moisture and where moderate temperatures prevail, while corn can get along with some less moisture and needs an abundance of heat to produce the largest and best crops. It is for the reasons mentioned that Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Canada produce the best root crops, while the states south of these to the gulf of Mexico lead in the production of corn.

While having a seemingly hard and tough bark, trees, especially the fruit bearing kind, are exceedingly susceptible to damage by fire. This is due to the fact that the life layer of the tree, the light yellow cambium layer, is just beneath the outside bark and, being so near the surface, is easily affected by an extreme of heat. One learns the truth of this to his sorrow at times when a fire gets away from him when burning litter in the garden or when a fire is accidentally started in the grass in the orchard.

For years past fumes of tobacco have been used for the purpose of fumigation in green and hot houses. But, due to the fact that this is not always effective with all kinds of insects, other insecticides have been experimented with, and hydrocyanic acid gas has been found to be very effective. One of the drawbacks with this is that in addition to exterminating insect life it will also inflict injury on the plants if allowed to remain in the inclosure too long. It is likewise a deadly poison, and great care has to be exercised in the use of it.

To get rid of the aphids or green lice which attack the rosebushes in house or garden there is nothing better than tobacco infusion, which is made by adding hot water to tobacco at the rate of four gallons to a pound of tobacco waste or stems. This should be allowed to stand until cold, when there should be added to it an ounce and a half of whale oil soap or three ounces of soft soap. This should be sprayed on the larger bushes, but the smaller potted plants may be dipped in it. The treatments should be given once a week until the lice disappear.

The patrons of a well known catalogue house have been having a good deal of trouble of late because the concern in question made use of patents in the manufacture of their cheap cream separators that belonged to another firm. A decision handed down by the United States circuit court not only enjoins the catalogue house from selling any more of these machines, but the individual purchaser from using them. Whether the supply house is going to make this loss good to its patrons is not as yet stated, but it is hardly likely.

The grape fruit, which is of the color of a lemon and of the shape of an orange, though considerably larger, gets its name from the fact that the fruit as borne on the trees is clustered much as are grapes on their stem. This fruit is not at its best until the second year after picking, when it is really too ripe for shipment, which accounts for the fact that relatively so little of it is shipped to eastern markets and for the further fact that so little of that which is shipped is in prime condition, being picked from the trees before it is really fit.

A NEW GRAFT.

One of the latest types of swindle that has been perpetrated on some of the unsuspecting farmers of a western locality was worked in this wise: There has been a good deal of talk about bovine tuberculosis in the state in question, and, taking their cue from this, two fellows joined hands to fleece the dairymen of the section. One, well dressed, wearing glasses and having a professional and learned bearing, went through a neighborhood inspecting the dairy cows, representing himself to be a state dairy inspector. In one instance when he ran across a good looking herd of cows he condemned a dozen animals as afflicted with tuberculosis, but told the farmer on leaving not to say anything about it, but to sell them for whatever he could get for shipment out of the state. Two or three days after this fakir No. 2, informed on the quiet of what had been done, came along to the farmer's place and asked if he had any cows for sale. The farmer explained matters and thought himself lucky to get $20 apiece for the supposedly diseased animals. When he learned a few days later that the whole business was a fake pure and simple the dictionary was entirely inadequate to furnish words which would express his feelings. Whether the victim of this game has recovered his property we have not learned. It is a pretty good thing to give the good looking, glib talking stranger a wide berth unless his identity can be established beyond a doubt.

DENATURED ALCOHOL SCHOOL.

As a result of plans which have been matured by Secretary James Wilson of the department of agriculture there will be established shortly in his department at Washington a denatured alcohol school. This will include a small but complete distilling outfit, including vats, worms, engines and other necessary apparatus, while it will be the aim of the secretary and his specialists to give a practical demonstration of what denatured alcohol is, how it is made and from what products to all visitors at Washington who may be interested in the subject. Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief chemist of the department, has been assigned to the job, which means that the work will be thoroughly done. Secretary Wilson is desirous of establishing a similar school in connection with the corn exposition to be held at Omaha in December, and this will be carried out provided favorable congressional action can be secured.

CANNED PRUNES.

Those who have had opportunity to pick the full ripened prune off the tree state that it possesses a delicious quality and flavor which are wanting in the dry product of commerce. In this connection considerable interest is felt both by growers and consumers of prunes in some experiments which have been lately conducted in the canning of the fresh prune, as is done so extensively with apricots, pears and peaches. Some of this canned product was sent to the Philippine Islands, returned to the factory which put it up and found to be in perfect condition. This keeping quality of the prune when put up fresh is a matter which seems to have been in considerable doubt. Now, however, that the point has been determined it is quite likely that prunes will be extensively canned.

A PRACTICAL OFFICIAL.

The New York commissioner of agriculture seems to be a person who views his office in something more than a purely honorary light. During last year he and his helpers inspected dairy herds in forty-five out of sixty-one counties, finding 628 dairy cows out of a total of 2,753 inspected affected with tuberculosis. He inspected 235 milk receiving stations, 144 of which he reported in an insanitary condition. The department of which he is head not only attended to the above work, but found employment for 445 single men and seventy-five families as hired help. Data secured by the commissioner showed that there were 226,720 farms in the state and that of this number 2,273 were for sale or rent.

DEBT SOMETIMES JUSTIFIABLE.

Any young man of enterprise, energy and sound health is justified in going into debt for a reasonable amount, depending somewhat upon his own capacity and the opportunity which may offer for digging out. In case he is married much will depend upon the disposition and strength of his wife, who, whether he will or no, is bound to share a portion of the responsibility as well as the work incident to incurring the obligation. Of course this advice is only for young men of determination, earnestness and sobriety. Chaps of any other type are likely to fare better if they stay out of debt, as will also those on whom they might be inclined to borrow.

MUST LEARN THRIFT.

With the gradual yet steady advance in the price of land, the American agriculturist must soon from very force of circumstances adopt the saving and thrifty habits so characteristic of the immigrants from the countries of northern Europe. From now on profits in agriculture must be looked for just as largely from a stoppage of leaks and waste as from an increase in the productive capacity of the land. This lesson of thrift, which has been an inbred habit with the foreigner for many generations, is one that the American, due to an opposite bringing up and a remarkable prodigality of natural resources, is very slow to learn.

G. W. RUMBERGER, Clerk. FRANK K. WHITE, County Treasurer

THE GIRL I'D LIKE TO MEET.

A. DRIGGS. F. LITTLEJOHNES.

Allegretto moderato.

1. Friends, I now to you will tell, A - bout a girl I love so well, That of my hair is smoothe and soft and brown, Her face is ne'er marr'd by a frown, She's the sweet-heart of all boys in town, She's the girl I'd like to meet.

2. But when this girl you've chanc'd to meet, You'll nev - er more this song re - peat, You'll find the boarding-school she just has come, She's live - ly, sweet and full of fun, But her mouth is full of chew-ing gum, This girl you'd like to meet.

When down the street she'll fan - cy she's the belle, She's the girl I'd like to meet. Her peach has lost its sweet, This..... girl you'd like to meet. From gai - ly walk, You'll see the chap-pies stare and talk, And this the cho - rus they re-peat:

"Now she's the girl I'd like to meet."

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—June is the month of roses there is good prospect of an abundance of these flowers.

—A report from Altoona states that it was so cool Monday night that snow fell in the Allegheny mountains.

—Jonas Wagner, principal of the Bellefonte schools, has been numbered among those who have the mumps.

—The closing of the public schools on Wednesday will give the pupils a rest from their studies for a period and they will now have lots of time for play.

—Coming out of Eckenroth's store shortly after noon Thursday Hastings Gates, driver of the Adams Express Company's wagon, slipped and fell, badly injuring his knee.

—Important statistics presented before the house of representatives the other day showed that during the year 1907 7,954,000 tons of coal were mined in Clearfield county.

—David Hamilton, aged about 73 years died at his home in Osceola on Sunday and was buried on Tuesday. He was a veteran of the Civil War and had served as postmaster at that place.

—Congressman Barclay has recommended John H. Martin to be postmaster at Clearfield to succeed John M. Chase. The appointment will no doubt be confirmed before the close of the present congress.

—D. L. A. Burrows a prominent Cross Fork physician, has become mentally deranged caued by his addiction to the cocaine habit and has been placed in the insane ward at the county home at Coudersport.

—All bills in connection with the Academy minstrels have been settled and the treasurer announces that the net proceeds for the three nights amounts to $54. This is more than was anticipated immediately after the minstrels were given.

—A freight wreck in which two cars were badly jamed occurred at the P. R. R. station at Lock Haven Tuesday evening. The wreck was caused by a piece of flange 18 inches in length breaking from one of the wheels. The piece of flange was found at Mill Hall.

—The locust trees are in blossom and on Wednesday evening the air was fraught with the fragrance of these sweet smelling flowers. There are plenty of them and they are very much used for decorating on Memorial day. Honeysuckles and snow balls are also in blossom at this time.

—The most interesting game of base ball of the season will be the contest on Saturday June 6 between Juniata College and the Academy at 2 o'clock p. m. The Juniata boys are a strong lot of players This statement is verified by the fact that they have defeated Dickinson Seminary of Williamsport in two games.

—The Pennsylvania railroad has issued orders to begin the work of the tunnel at Greensburg which was stopped last fall. About $1,000,000 will be spent cutting down the tunnel, reducing the grade and making a cut wide enough for six tracks It will be the first move toward six tracking the road between New York and Philadelphia.

—The Sandy Ridge fire brick plant which recently passed into the hands of J. Ross Wynn and J. H. France, of Philipsburg, is already showing good results. The plant has been running only two or three turns a day and beginning Wednesday the turns have been increased to five a day, which gives employment to many more men.

—David F. McCuller, of Double Springs, Ala., and Miss Ethel McGhee, of Beech Creek, were married in the court house at Lock Haven, Wednesday forenoon at 11:15 o'clock by Rev. John A. MacSporran. All the court house officials and several others who were there at the time were invited to witness the ceremonies.

—Charles A. Campbell, of Philipsburg, and Harry Y. DeViney, of Wallaceton, who for some time have had a large force of men at work near Farrandsville cutting paper wood for the Lock Haven mill, have disposed of their contract and equipment to James M. Arbrolia, P. T. Mancuso and Frank Ferigonia, of Pittsburg. They have in view another similar track

—Philip Trovota a butcher at Mt. Union was murdered sometime Saturday night and his body was found Sunday morning along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. Two bullet holes were in his head. He was known to carry considerable sum of money with him and as there was none on his person when he was found it is believed that he was murdered for his money. The police have arrested three suspect who were taken to Huntingdon pending an investigation.

—Bargains at the Imperial every Friday

—William Mokle, of Lemont, is seriously ill at his home in that place.

—Watch for the hand bills from the Electric Theatre for specials Friday and Saturday.

—The Centre Hall baseball team will play at Milesburg on Saturday afternoon, the game to be called at 2 o'clock.

—The belfry on the St. John's Parochial school building is being torn down, that part of the structure being built of wood and did not long withstand the winds and rains.

—Col. W. Fred Reynolds has been added to Bellefonte's list of automobilists having placed an order for a car of the Franklin type. Howard Best will be Mr. Reynold's chauffeur.

—The remains of Dr. Shadle of St. Paul, Minn., passed through Bellefonte on Tuesday on the way to Mifflinburg where interment was made. The doctor was a former Pennsylvanian and his wife was from Mifflinburg.

—It was reported last week that the Undine fire company was going to hold its Fourth of July picnic at the fair grounds this year. Such however is not the case and the annual picnic of the fire company will be held at Hecla Park. Further announcement of the plans will be made later.

—It is probable that some of the men elected superintendents of schools in boroughs throughout the state will have to be elected again because of failure to give advertised notice of the election. This matter was noticed when reports were made and was an oversight on the part of the boards.

—Some foreign miners formed a parade at Punxsutawney on Saturday to honor dead soldiers and a dispute arose as to who would carry the flag. Frank Moraco, the flag-bearer refused to let Tony Benato carry the national emblem for a while and and latter shot him. Benato then escaped and the shot proved fatal to Moraco,

—The engagement of Miss Magaret Buckout, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William A. Buckout, of State College and Charles L. Kinsloe son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kinsloe, of Lock Haven, has been announced. Miss Buckout graduates from Vassar this week and Mr. Kinsloe is an instructor in the electrial department at State College

—Daniel Buck, of Unionville, will probably be the successor of Edward L. Hoy as manager of the Bellefonte Lumber company. If Mr. Buck accepts the position he will give about four days a week of his time looking after the interests of the lumber company and the other two days will attend to the industry in which he is interested at Unionville.

—Absolom Pearce and three of his sons, of near Kylertown, were out fishing last week and camped in a tent. When the heavy storm came up Friday evening they sought shelter in the tent and they had been in only a short time when a bolt of lightning struck a tree near the tent. The bolt took a downward course and passed through the tent killing the father.

—A great many people have trouble in destroying the plantains which spring up in their lawns and gardens. Some one announces a new way of destroying them and claims it is the most effective. He takes an ordinary medicine dropper and fills it with crude carbolic acid, dropping a single drop in the heart of the weed. This shrivels up the root and the fate of that pest is settled for all time, with no injury to the surrounding grass.

—A social will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gates on East Lamb street on Tuesday evening, June 9th, by the Sunday school class taught by Miss Ella A. Gates, the proceeds to be applied to the debt on the Lutheran church. Ice cream, cake, coffee, and ice cream in cones will be served, while a very enjoyable evening is assured all. You are cordially invited to be present and lend your support to such a worthy object.

Gregg Post Improved Plot.

At this season of thhe year the Union cemetery, the resting place of our loved ones, presents a beautiful appearance. The association and the different lot owners take a just pride in keeping the grass cut and the driveways in a tidy condition. Among the lots undergoing improvement is that belonging to Gregg Post No. 85 G. A. R. The lot is a large one and the soldier dead are buried in a circle. The lot has been raised and filled in about three feet and a handsome wall of concrete blocks has been placed around it. The gravestones rest on a concrete foundation and it is the intention to sod the plot. At each corner of the plot it is the desire to have a cannon placed, or failing of this, some flowering bush, of attractive design, will be secured. The concrete work was furnished and set up by the Bellefonte Lumber Company and the job is a credit to this enterprising firm.

Samuel B. Miller, one of the trustees of Gregg Post, superintended the work for the Post and deserves a whole lot of credit for the successful culmination of his efforts. The work cost the Post about $300.00 but it certainly was money well spent as it is an improvement that will last for years.

Only Three Games Played.

Of the six games of ball scheduled in the Clinton—Centre league for Saturday only three were played and this changes the standing of the clubs somewhat. Saturday was to have been a big day in the league but the frequent showers prevented the playing of all the games.

In the forenoon the Red Roses of Beech Creek went to Howard where they succeeded in defeating the Millionaires in in a hard struggle. Both sides had a difficult time getting their first run in and not until the eighth inning did the Howard team score. It looked for a time as if the Millionaires would have to take a shut out for theirs but when the game was ended the score stood 6 to 4. The grounds were very wet from the rains of the previous night and the players were very much handicapped, the pitchers especially being unable to do good work. The score by innings:

Beech Creek	0	0	0	2	1	0	2	0	1	—6.
Howard	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	1	—4.

The Woolpickers and Snow Shoe also played one game in the forenoon in which the Coal Barons were victorious over the Woolrich team by a 6-2 score. The afternoon game at Snow Shoe was called off on account of rain.

In a game at Mill Hall called at 1 30 p. m., the Ponies shut out the Orvis Mountaineers but they secured only two runs themselves. The game was a hard contested one and one of the best of the season.

Just as the game between the Mill Hall and Howard teams was started at Howard a heavy shower came up and the game was called off. Orvis and Beech Creek were also to have played at 4 o'clock and that game was prevented by the rain.

Standing of the clubs:

	Won	Lost	P. C.
Beech Creek	3	1	.750
Howard	2	1	.667
Mill Hall	3	2	.600
Orvis	3	2	.600
Snow Shoe	3	3	.500

Shipments Must be Marked.

For many years it has been the custom of a large number of shippers to mark their boxes and packages with some hieroglyphic, the key to which would be on the bill of lading. This was done in order to save time and also prevent other shippers learning the names of customers. But great abuses have resulted from the practice and often all the goods in one shipment were not marked. When the goods of one shipment became mixed with those of another there was no way of identifying them. The consequence has been great delay, vexation on the part of both shippers and consignees, and claims against the railroads.

After July first all railroads east of the Mississippi will refuse for transportation all shipments in less than carload lots which are not plainly marked with the name of the consignee, and the station, city and state of destination. Figures prepared by 17 of the trunk lines show that the losses and damages in 1907 amounted to one per cent, of the total freight earnings. The estimated loss for the year 1907 is $2,500,000. While some of the railroads were seeking a remedy for this loss the plan of demanding goods to be marked in full could not be put in force because of the competitive lines not having the rule. Now 416 railroads will participate in the enforcement of the new rule, which will be the saving of many delays to the public.

Iron Was Precious.

While rummaging through some old papers which he found in the house in which he lives Prothonotary A. B. Kimport found a price list of various kinds of iron, the quotation sheet bearing date of January 5th, 1866. This was just after the close of the war and at a period when everything was at its highest price. While the price of iron is considered to be at a good figure at present the prices quoted on this list are startling. For instance the price quoted on "common bar iron" is $105 per ton, or more than three times what a ton of rails would cost now. Small round and square rods were quoted at from $120 to $180. Half inch hoop iron was listed at $250 per ton while the inch hoop iron was $170. The "Celebrated brand of Valentine Juniata" horse shoe rods was listed at $150 per ton, while the various kinds of steel were quoted by the pound. The prices of pig iron were not quoted on the slip.

The price list was issued by Morris, Wheeler & Co., of Philadelphia, agents for the Valentine Brand of Juniata iron. It furnishes quite a contrast with present prices.

The Demand for Trained Men.

The demand for efficient men trained at our best agricultural colleges exceeds the supply. Organizations of breeders, dairymen, fruit growers and others producere in many of our States solicit special investigation to be undertaken by station scientists. There is public demand for offical tests of foods, animal feeding stuffs and commercial fertilizers. There is continual increase in the number of high schools that give instruction in agriculture and which necessarily find need of agricultural scientists as capable teachers. There are also many farms employing agricultural college graduates as superintendents.

The salaries paid to such men exceed those paid to scientists of similar rank in other lines, because there are not enough men to do the work. Our agricultural colleges cannot compete in the matter of salary with commercial concerns that need men trained in agriculture. An illustration is found in the instance of our one agricultural college in Pennsylvania. Within the last year or two one member of the faculty of this school of agriculture has withdrawn to accept a position with a commercial concern producing high grade milk, and he is now getting five thousand dollars a year. A scientist in the Department of Animal Husbandry has been secured by China at a salary three times as great as the Pennsylvania School of Agriculture was able to pay him. He leaves for Mukden, Manchuria, the last of June to assist in establishing an experiment station there. Another member of the agricultural faculty, Prof. John W. Gilmore, has been chosen President of the College of Hawaii at Honolulu, and the salary paid him will be nearly double that which he has been receiving at State College. Another young man in this faculty left to become a farm manager at $1600 a year.

The Camel and the House.

We are familiar with the story of the camel that begged only to put his nose inside the house for warmth. Reluctantly this was granted.

Then—"Simply give entrance to the head and forefeet—; that would not involve much" under protest this was after a time conceded.

Finally once for all the whole camel was in and the owner had to find shelter elsewhere. For man's benefit and Gods glory this commandment was given—"Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work. But the seventh is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God. In it thou shalt not do any work."

In Bellefonte a proposal was made to run a line of cars to Tyrone on Sunday, simply one line a day, "a work of necessity," under protest this was done. Today how many lines are running, how many men working, how many hacks with their men at the station, how many christian men and women arranging to go and come on Sunday?

Is not this tempting Him who only can give success to men and who has declared that "the just shall inherit the earth"? The wheels grind slow, but they grind and "and as a man sows, so shall he reap."

If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath from doing thy pleasure on my holy day—I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

Academy Has Hard Luck.

The Bellefonte Academy base ball nine returned home today from a trip to Saltsburg and Indiana. On Saturday they crossed bats with the strong "Kiski" nine and were defeated by the score of 5-0.

Monday they played the champion Indiana Normal team and had them beaten up to the ninth inning by the score of 2-1. In the last inning the umpire allowed the first man to go to first on balls who was clearly struck out by Mellen, the second man up struck out and the third man knocked an easy ball to Laderer who struck the Indiana runner on the shoulder as he was making the run that tied the score. The next batsman made a hit and sent in the winning run. Many spectators agreed with the Academy in claiming that the first Indiana man in the ninth inning should not have been allowed to take first on balls. This decision proved fatal to the Academy. Our boys earned the game having 6 hits and 3 errors to Indiana's 3 hits and six errors.

Mellen pitched superb ball in both games striking out seven at Kiski and ten at Indiana. At Kiski the Academy short stop was forced to catch and at Indiana Thomas did the catching. In short Mr. Hughes in his determination not to yield the school discipline to win games left the catcher and another strong player behind when he started on this trip. With these two players in their regular places the Academy could have won both games. As it was the home boys did most creditable work. Kiski didn't score a run after the fourth inning.

This Saturday, June 6, Juniata College will be here and a great game is assured. It will be called at 2 o'clock sharp. Encourage the boys with your presence and your money, admission 25 cents.

Directors Pass Resolutions.

Bellefonte, Pa., May 28-08

At a meeting of the directors of the Bellefonte Lumber Co. held this date the following resolution was unamiously adopted:

WHEREAS in the providence of God our esteemed secretary and treasurer has been called from further association with us to his eternal home and

WHEREAS he was most genuinely beloved by the men in all departments of this business enterprise be it

Resolved hat in the death of Edward Livingston Hoy this company has sustained an irreparable loss. His efficiency as a business man and as the organizer of this enterprise is known to all who knew him while his kindly disposition and genial christian life made his a personality universally respected.

Resolved that, while we bow in submission to the will of our Heavenly Father in this sad dispensation, we hereby record our high esteem of Mr. Hoy as a man, as a business associate and a very dear friend and in doing so express our deep sympathy with the family in this their sore bereavement.

Resolved, that this resolution be spread on the minutes of the corporation, published in the county papers and a copy be sent to the family.

Will Start on Big Timber Tract.

The Goodyear Lumber Company has begun a march upon the last large tract of timber in Clearfield county and is establishing nine camps of 75 men each on its 20,000 acre tract on the Upper Medix run. It is estimated that there is 90,000,000 feet of hemlock and 20,000,000 feet of hard wood on it. The combined force of woodsmen engaged on the job will be about 700 and these will average a wage of $2.50 per day and "found." Already there are three applicants for every job.

The Goodyears have contracted with the jobbers to cut 40,000,000 feet this year and 50,000,000 next year. This is the hemlock and pine, and the hard wood has been sold to a New England paper manufacturing company. This tract has been owned by the Goodyears for the past fifteen years but they were operating in Potter county and the Clearfield field was left untouched. If the present prices are maintained it is estimated that the profit on this tract will reach $1,000,000.
